DEAR THEATREGOER

Welcome to this evening's performance of 'Sailor Beware'. In keeping with the Club's policy of introducing new members to our audiences I am delighted that we are able to include three new members in this production.

So it's a warm welcome to Shirley Strickland, Brian Ball and George Symes. Shirley will be no stranger to residents of Wimborne as she is the widow of the late Canon Strickland. Shirley now resides in Swanage and for the past ten weeks has been making the trip to Wimborne twice weekly for rehearsals!

Our producer, Eileen Judd, joined the Club a little over a year ago and we are delighted that she has produced 'Sailor Beware' for us. We hope that this will be the first of many such productions. Eileen lives at Wool, so is also to be congratulated on making the twice weekly trip to Wimborne.

Later this month on Friday 31st, Eileen will be able to remain in Wool and welcome the Cast there when they give a special performance of this play to raise funds for Cancer Research.

May I take this opportunity to thank you for your continuing support and patronage.

DAVID GREEN CHAIRMAN.

GEORGE SYMES. This is George's first performance with Wimborne Drama Club and he says he's thoroughly enjoyed every minute of it. Unfortunately it will also be his last as he is leaving the area in the summer. He hopes that you enjoy watching the play as much as he has enjoyed participating in it.

BARBARA TREBILCO. Back in comedy again and enjoying every minute of it. Unlike poor Auntie Edie who was left stranded at the altar 20 years before, Barbara spent many happy years with her husband Richard who sadly died 18 months ago. Barbara hopes you won't mind if she takes this opportunity to thank her many friends in the Club who have helped her through the traumatic months since his death. She hopes we can make you laugh tonight - so sit back and enjoy yourselves!

EILEEN JUDD - DIRECTOR. Eileen is a new member, she trained in Dramatic Art and the stage has been her main interest since childhood. Eileen has acted with and directed many London Clubs and made frequent appearances in West End Theatres. With a background of Shakespeare, modern plays and music hall, she is happy to find herself in a friendly club with catholic tastes!

Forthcoming Productions:-

'Lark Rise' adapted by Keith Dewhurst, with Special Guests the New St. George Band.
21st June 1989 at the Barn, Moors Valley Country Park.

22nd June 1989 at Walford Mill, Wimborne.

23rd, 24th, 25th November 1989 'Death & the Maiden' by Georgina Reid at the Allendale Centre.

THE CAST

BRIAN BALL. Brian joined the Club in August last year and this is his first production with us. He has, however, trodden the boards a few times in the past and worked behind the scenes in amateur and professional theatre. He assures us that he is not as pure as Purefoy may suggest.

TONY FELTHAM. Tony has been in Wimborne Drama Club since 1984, when he made his debut as Sgt. Mellors in Agatha Christie's 'A Murder is Announced'. Since then he has appeared on many occasions and transferred to the Navy for his latest role. Wedding bells are ringing for Albert Tufnell in 'Sailor Beware!' and wedding bells will be ringing for Tony when he marries Julie in October - Hopefully both performances will run smoothly!

YVONNE GOODMAN. Treading the boards this time as the nosey neighbour, she hopes the Producer didn't think it was type casting! Yvonne has enjoyed being in this 'fun' production with the usual excellent team.

SPENCER HARE. After a couple of years working backstage, Spencer is pleased to be 'out front' again and trying a different dialect as well. Spencer thinks Henry is a nice character part although given the choice he seems to prefer his ferrets to his family. In real life Spencer has no interest whatsoever in the little furry beasts.

BARBARA HURST. Back to learning lines again after 18 months of backstage work, doing props, producing and stage management. Barbara is delighted to be acting in her fourth full length production for Wimborne, she is particularly pleased to be in another comedy which is always hard work but great fun to rehearse and perform.

SHIRLEY ILOTT. This is Shirley's second acting part, the first being a teenager infatuated with an older man, in last year's production of 'Quiet Weekend'. She has now graduated to a flirt in her early twenties. Both parts are alien to her nature, but she has enjoyed the challenge immensely.

SHIRLEY STRICKLAND. Shirley taught in Wimborne for eleven years before moving to Swanage in 1981 with her late husband Rev. Canon Douglas Strickland. They both took up singing and drama after their retirement. It was quite by chance that Shirley attended one of the Club's meetings and fell in love with the T shirts! She felt she had to become a member for purchase of same, but is still unable to decide upon the colour!
